

YOU DON'T NEED FEET IF YOU KNOW HOW TO
USE YOUR HEAD—CRIPPLE'S PHILOSOPHY

William A. Kim.

BY L. D. ANGEVINE

Spokane, Wash., March 30.—

"What's the use of a pair of feet? All they do is carry you around. A wheel chair answers the purpose just as well. If you have brains you don't need feet!"

So says William A. Kim, hopeless cripple, and optimist.

One night eight years ago Kim rolled his wheel chair off a train here